Discover Tennessee History offers educators new, effective professional development opportunities and educational resources focused on what each of our organizations do best: the collection, preservation, and interpretation of the primary sources of Tennessee history, whether they be diaries, newspapers, letters, oral histories, artifacts, or historic places.

Working together across the state, this initiative includes the East Tennessee Historical Society, Tennessee Historical Society, Tennessee State Library and Archives, Tennessee State Museum, Tennessee State Parks, and Teaching with Primary Sources–MTSU.
